The Tariff—Lead.

SALT LAKE CITY, Dec. 12, 1882.

Editors Herald:

At last, it appears, that questions other than Mormonism and polygamy, are likely to come to the surface and attract attention.

It is so seldom that anything is said by a certain class of the citizens of Utah, upon questions of the policy of the United States, that I own to a sense of gratification at witnessing the late meetings held in Salt Lake City to take into consideration the tariff on lead, even though the position of gentlemen composing the meetings, is far removed from my own notions on the subject of protection, because it is to be hoped that agitation will lead to investigation, and eventually to a true appreciation of that subject.

Can it be possible that these meetings, and their action, are held merely for the purpose of maintaining the present high premium on lead production? or is it not more probable that this action is had for the purpose of aiding protectionists elsewhere, and strengthening the spine of the Republican party? Surely the latter appears to me the more reasonable conclusion, else why should Professor Holden go to all the trouble of rehearsing the protective doctrine which he says "is as old as established government," and why else should he lead the tariff meeting, headed by Gov. Murray, who may be termed the representative of the Republican party in Utah, so cordially endorse Mr. Holden's "address" and appoint him to carry the news to Washington?

This address contains the usual points advanced in the favor of protection, and is painted in glowing colors by the polished Professor; in fact I think I may say without exaggeration, that in many respects they are too highly colored to be true.

When the meeting at the Walker House heard and unanimously adopted that portion of Mr. Holden's address wherein he said, "that all the business of this territory is largely dependent for success on the production of these ores and metals, (lead and copper) and that the success heretofore obtained has been due to the tariff on those metals and their ores, and without such tariff the greatest of all the producing interests of this territory viz: the mining and reduction of ores, would be shut down,"—it must have escaped the attention of the gentlemen composing the meeting that the figures do not sustain the proposition.

Col. Hollister is, no doubt, regarded as good authority on these subjects, which he seems to have investigated, and on reference to his "Resources and Attractions of Utah," I find some tables which would seem to conflict with Mr. Holden's statement.

In the tables given by the Colonel on pages 21 and 22, of the above work, I find that Utah produced in 1881 ores and bullion, as follows:

Refined lead	$145,490.51
Crude lead	965,654.02
Total lead yield	$1,101,050.13
Copper, none
Silver	$5,508,782.95
Gold	139,650.00
Total gold and silver	$6,744,433.03

The above calculation is based upon Salt Lake prices. The same products are estimated as worth in the New York market, $8,128,012.25. From these tables it appears that the value of silver over lead is about five to one. In other words, the lead industry produced a little over one million dollars, while the silver product was over five and a half millions.

Such being the fact, how can it be said with truth that "all the business of the territory is largely dependent for success on the production of lead and copper?"

On the contrary, could the product of lead be discontinued and that of silver and gold continue, but little inconvenience to the general public would result.

In view of these facts and figures I am led to inquire why it is that the persons engaged in the present raid on the pockets of the consumers of lead, and who seem to take so deep an interest in the welfare of Utah, have thus far been silent in regard to the protection of the great staple metal of the territory—silver?

Do they not know that it has been the policy of the republican administration respectively of Hayes, Garfield and Arthur to defeat the action of Congress regarding the coinage and circulation of silver, thus discouraging its production?

As Professor Holden is on the eve of his departure to Washington to lobby in the interest of a high protective tariff, let me beseech him, if he is really in earnest in advocacy of the interest of Utah's products, to use his influence (which no doubt is very considerable in behalf of the much-abused "dollar of our daddies")

Let him throttle that infamous bill which we are this morning informed was introduced yesterday by Mr. Waite, providing that no more silver be bought or dollars coined, until the supply on hand is below $50,000,000.

Let him scalp those "eastern members who are determined to have the scalp of the silver dollars this time."

Let him carry to the president and to Congress the expressed wish of the true friends of Utah and her mineral products that the coinage of silver be continued in accordance with existing laws and that when coined it shall be paid out instead of being piled up in the treasury.

Let him tell them that silver has as much right to protection as lead, copper, iron or steel rails.

Let him ask Congress to so regulate the common carriers of the United States, that it will not be in the power of any combination of railroads to take 20 per cent. of our ores and bullion, for transporting 80 per cent. to market.

Let him urge Congress to enact such constitutional regulations as will place it beyond the power of a lot of soulless corporations to gratify their inordinate greed by the outrageous charges now made for transporting the products of Utah to market.

But if Professor Holden goes to Washington as a lobbyist for a high protective tariff, and as a republican politician, he will do none of these things which I suggest. On the contrary, he will ask Congress to retain a tax of 2 cents per pound on lead, to be paid by the consumers, in order that some ten or a dozen mining and smelting companies, and three or four railroad corporations may be enabled to declare large dividends upon large watered stocks.

DESTRUCTIVE FIRES

Kingston, Jamaica Burned—Manayunk Mills.

Philadelphia, 12.—The Enterprise cotton mills at Manayunk, owned by Samuel S. Keeley, and occupied by Joseph Adams, cotton yarns; J. Kelley & Withers, cotton spinners; J. Lord & Conner, carpet yarns, and John Wild & Bro., carpet yarns, was totally destroyed by fire this afternoon. Loss, $15,000 on building, $60,000 on stock and machinery. The fire broke out on the fourth floor. About 100 operatives were at work. Those on the fifth floor were exposed to the most danger, as there were no fire escapes. The only means that many had to avoid destruction by fire was to use the outside hoisting rope, which reached only to the second floor. All coming down this had to fall from the second floor, to the ground. Several were burned by the flames belching out of the windows. Others jumped from the windows. Sixteen were injured, some by falling, others by burns about the face and body. Only one, Mary O'Connor, aged fourteen, is believed to be fatally injured; Robt. Marsh, aged nineteen, had a lacerated by having it caught in a hook at the end of the rope while descending. The list of injured includes Wm. Dempey, aged 10; Walter Trait, aged 18; James Wiley, aged 15; Maggie Quinn, aged 18; Mary E. Hoffman, aged 10; Susan Hoffman, aged 20; Wm. Everman, aged 32; Wm. Everman, jr., aged 10; Wm. Keen, aged 17; Jas. Connor, aged 32; Thos. Parnell, aged 25; Jno. Kelly, aged 40; Jno. Downin, aged 50; the engineer and a girl named Hoops.

New York, 12.—The following dispatch was received from Jamaica to-day: The business quarter of Kingston burned yesterday; loss, $50,000,000. Hundreds are homeless; wharves, warehouses, stores, banks and supplies all gone. Food supplies needed. Charitable relief should be sent to W. K. Azbill, secretary Kingston charity organization.

New York, 12.—The Sun has the following additional details of the Kingston, Jamaica, fire: Geo. P. Forwood, agent of the Atlas line of steamers, received additional particulars of the fire by cable last evening. He said the fire originated near the water front. The sea breeze that prevailed during the evening fanned the flames inland. The fire extended about one and one-half miles along the water front, from the wharf of the Royal Mail S. S. Co. to the Atlas line. The wharf with the buildings, were one and two stories high and made of wood. There was no fire department and negro natives who compose a great part of the population were probably too much frightened or too lazy to combat the fire. Forwood showed the following dispatch from McDowell & Hankey, agents of the Atlas line in Kingston: Half the city is burned. McDowell's office is destroyed, but our wharves are saved. Richard Sanderson, agent of the Wilson Steamship Company, one of whose boats, the Belisee, ply between New York and Jamaica, said he thought the fire a Godsend to Kingston. It was a miserable town, he continued, filled principally with shiftless negroes. Their wives do all the work, while they attend to the home consumption of rum. We have to depend entirely upon the women for cooking our steamed rice. If the fire has destroyed the business portion of the city, all the government buildings are gone. All the buildings were frame structures, one or two stories high. The government officials did not reside in town, so I suppose they have not lost much.

Miscellaneous.

New York, 12.—The city ministers purpose to agitate for a better enforcement of the Sunday penal code.

Schedules filed in an assignment of Charles Faile, tea merchant, to Isaac B. Crane, state the liabilities at $437,543, nominal assets $372,788, actual assets, $320,696. Liabilities to the amount of about $150,000 are secured, and about $176,686 is now in the hands of the assignee, ready for distribution.

Washington, 12.—Mr. Page presented in the House, to-day, a petition of the citizens of California to the tariff commissioners recommending an increase of the duty on chicory. The petitioners claim that this industry needs protection, and that the reduction from 5 cents to 1 cent per pound has practically ruined their business.

Garfield's Awards.

Washington, 12.—Certificates of awards made by the Garfield board of audit, were presented to the secretary of the treasury to-day. Warrants for the amounts and payments are to be made by Thursday or Friday. Two claims presented by messengers in the war department, were rejected. They were for sitting up two nights during the President's illness at the rate of $25 per night.

Highway Robbery.

Denver, 12.—The Republican's Los Vegas special says: Last night a wealthy Mexican named Pascual Seno, while going home from here, was shot and killed by highway-men.

Yesterday the Clifton, Grant County, stage was stopped and robbed by road agents, and two Chinese passengers killed.
